

MEN STANDING UP...AND SITTING DOWN Youth Pledge

National Compadres Network Campaign
June 1, 2018

As a young person and member of my family and community, I recognize that I contribute to my and my community's health, happiness, and future. The decisions and actions I make today can make a positive difference and improve the community for the next generation. I recognize that I set a positive example as a young person which will have an incredible impact on the lives of children in my family and community. Therefore, today I pledge that I will fulfill this role in a manner that benefits me, my family, and, community by committing to the following principles:

- Be a young person that understands that my most prized possession is the value of my word and through my actions be true to my word.
- Make it my priority to take care of my physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual health.
- Nurture my personal gifts and talents so that I can uncover the positive purpose of my life that will benefit all those in my Circle.
- Recognize that my identity as a young person is not about violence or taking advantage of others but of being caring and responsible.
- Will contribute to making my community one of peace and will not tolerate violence.
- Will recognize that the use of emotional, sexual, physical, mental, or economic abuse against members of my family or community cannot be tolerated.
- Will discover and nurture my voice so that I can speak up against injustice and oppression even when it is more comfortable to say nothing.
- Recognize that children are sacred and will be a positive example to them and treat them with care, love, and dignity.
- Recognize that I am worthy of being treated with care, love, and respect and seek support and counsel from those that recognize my positive purpose.
- Will take time for introspection and reflection and include positive traditions in my life so I can connect with my cultural and/or spiritual traditions.
- Will live these values honestly and with love so that I can achieve my personal goals, nurture my family, and be a reflection of goodness to my community.

By signing this pledge, I will work each day to fulfill the actions of these principles and will seek to build or maintain myself as a young person who understands the honor of being a PERSON of Responsibility.
